

Children's Museum of the Lowcountry to Host Noon Year's Eve Celebration

Charleston, S.C., December 11, 2019 – The Children's Museum of the Lowcountry (CML) is excited to announce the return of the annual Noon Year's Eve celebration. On Tuesday, December 31, families can ring in the new year with a ball drop at noon, complete with biodegradable confetti.

"We're excited to be able to provide this free and engaging programming to all the children of the Lowcountry," says Nichole Myles, executive director of the Children's Museum of the Lowcountry. "Having the ball drop at noon allows both the children and the parents to celebrate a New Year's Eve tradition together while not staying up until midnight. The kids love participating in the festivities and watching the ball drop, and the parents love to celebrate early with their children."

Event Details:

- What: Noon Year's Eve
- When: Tuesday, December 31; 9:00am-2:00pm
- Where: Children's Museum of the Lowcountry, 25 Ann St, Charleston, SC 29403
- Tickets: This event is included with CML membership or admission. No pre-registration is required. CML frequently reaches capacity for this event. Please arrive early or plan to stay after the ball drop to play.
- Details: There will also be craft projects and time for play before the ball drop.

For more information about this event, visit www.exploreCML.org/cml-events/noon-years-eve/.

About Children's Museum of the Lowcountry

The Children's Museum of the Lowcountry is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to engage young children's potential by inviting families of all backgrounds to explore environments and experiences that spark imagination and stimulate curiosity through the power of play. The museum works to address specific needs within the Lowcountry community by partnering with area organizations to develop targeted programs to better to community. For more information about the museum, including hours and admission, visit exploreCML.org.

###

Media Contacts

Lauren Van Liew/Abby Adelman

Lou Hammond Group

Laurenv@louhammond.com/abbya@louhammond.com

843.410.4688/843.410.5306