About the Museum:

Situated in a historic building in downtown Charleston, South Carolina, the Children's Museum of the Lowcountry features seven rooms and an outdoor area housing exhibits designed with expert knowledge in how children learn through self-directed play. Within this setting, the museum organizes educational activities and programs specifically designed to address the developmental needs of children aged from birth to eight. Since its inception, the museum has emerged as the region's leader in the creation of engaging exhibits and innovative programs that nurture a love of learning and problem solving in young children.

For 20 years, the museum has elevated and aided parents in their important role as a child's first and most important teacher, and provided tools to teachers that augment the formal learning environment.

To serve as many children as possible throughout South Carolina's diverse Lowcountry region, the museum removes barriers where possible to ensure that all children can learn from a museum experience, including:

- Holding 20% of its in-demand summer camp seats for families who cannot afford tuition,

- Offering private time and free admission to families with special needs children twice per month,

- Robustly participating in the Museums for All program, offering $2 admission for families on public support,

- Providing four free family evenings per year.

In addition, the museum continually seeks grant funding that enables its Pop-Up Tinker Shop traveling museum experience, featuring multiple STEAM-based exhibit elements, to visit schools throughout the region.

Camps:

CML camps provide educational enrichment opportunities disguised as PLAY during school breaks: Spring Break Camp, Summer Camp, Turkey Time Camp and Winter Wonderland Camp! Children ages 3 - 10 engage in developmentally appropriate, hands-on activities that include science, engineering, math, literacy and the arts and center around fun weekly themes. Children also spend time exploring in the CML interactives, where, through PLAY, they enhance their communication, problem solving and creativity skills. CML campers forge friendships as they work on collaborative projects and test their strengths as they tackle fun mental and physical challenges. Every day of camp delivers a set of unique experiences that keep children learning through PLAY!

Programs:

The Children's Museum of the Lowcountry hosts weekly programs for your little ones to PLAY and learn! In addition to the hands-on exhibits offered every day at the Children's Museum of the Lowcountry, the children's museum offers the following operating programs: Field Trips based on the S.C. Department of Education Curriculum Standards, Art programming including drawing, knitting, and arts & crafts, Science programming including the exploration of reptiles, shrimping, water power and more, Creative movement and art classes for toddlers, Summer Camps, Birthday Parties and Parent Education Classes.
